A Step-by-Step Guide

The following instructions have been prepared by the Global Education Office (GEO) in order to make the study abroad process a little easier for you to understand and complete properly. Please read this carefully and don’t hesitate to get in touch with us if you have any further questions.

STEP 1: PLAN FOR THE EXPERIENCE
Discuss your study abroad plan with a GEO advisor, director of academic engagement, or pre-major/major advisor. If you are on financial aid, you may want to seek advice from your Financial Aid advisor. Research the options and determine how they fit into your academic plan at Duke. Choose the program that best complements or contributes to your academic goals and plans. Consider, too, other factors that may affect your decision: course sequencing, housing when you return, etc. For instance, if you study abroad during the fall semester, the housing placement you receive for your return in the spring may not be your first choice.

STEP 2: APPLY TO STUDY ABROAD
Be sure your application is submitted to the program(s) on or before the published deadline. All students, regardless of program type, must complete the Duke on-line application. To begin, go to the GEO website globaled.duke.edu. Click on MyGlobalEd and get started!

- If you are applying to a Duke-administered program (e.g. Duke in Berlin, Duke in Madrid, etc.) you do not need to complete an additional application. The Duke on-line application is the program application. Be sure to complete all items in your checklist and comply with follow-up requests.
- For non-Duke-approved programs (see approved list on our website at http://tinyurl.com/y8qpc75), you will need to complete the Duke on-line application as well as an application for that particular program. Check the program websites for individual application forms, deadlines and any additional instructions.
- If the non-Duke programs require ANY FORMS to be signed by advisors at Duke, please bring them directly to the GEO. We will take care of the signatures and forms for you. Do NOT give study abroad advisor forms to your academic deans or academic advisors for signatures, although you should certainly discuss plans with them.

STEP 3: LOG IN FREQUENTLY TO MYGLOBALED
After you’ve started an application, your applicant homepage is created. Login frequently using the “Duke Log In” link on MyGlobalEd to check your application status. You will receive automated email reminders which will direct you to any incomplete items.

STEP 4: COMPLETE STUDY ABROAD FORMS
You can start to review forms before you have been accepted into your program, but do not submit the forms until you have been accepted. Our advice is to start as soon as possible, so that you are not rushing at the last minute to get everything done. Everyone studying abroad on any semester program must fill out these forms. All forms have due dates printed on them. Forms are available to download on the on-line application. Make sure to submit all of your forms on time or you might jeopardize your chances of going abroad. You will not be put on study agreement in the Duke system until you complete the following:

- Participation Agreement – You and your parent/guardian should sign and return the Participation Agreement by the date indicated. Please do not submit this form until you have been accepted by the program and you have decided to attend. A student should only submit one Participation Agreement per semester.
- Duke University International Travel Registry (https://travel.duke.edu/) - include dkearney@duke.edu in the specified section of the form.
- Pre-Departure Orientation (online)

STEP 5: UNDERSTAND THE COURSE APPROVAL AND TRANSFER CREDIT PROCESS
This step applies to students attending non-Duke-approved programs as well as those “Duke-in” programs for which you will earn transfer credit for some courses (e.g. Duke in Glasgow, Duke in Berlin [spring], etc.). You need to be sure you will receive credit for each course you plan to take abroad. Many courses that have been taken by students in the past have been previously approved by the appropriate departments at Duke. Check the Course Approval Database on our website (http://courses.globaled.duke.edu) while you are making your selections. If all of your choices appear in this database, there is nothing else you need to do but to successfully complete a full load of courses abroad and make a C- or better for each course. If you wish to take a course that has not already been approved, you need to contact Cathy Penny (cathy.penny@duke.edu) in the GEO for assistance in having that course approved. You should get your courses approved before you go abroad as you will only receive credit for courses that have been approved. If you think a course you took (or will take) abroad meets the criteria to receive the FL Mode of Inquiry code, you will need to follow the instructions on-line (http://trinity.duke.edu/undergraduate/academic-policies/transfer-credit). If information on courses is not available before you leave or if you change courses and you are not sure that the new courses are approved, fax or e-mail Cathy immediately. This will save you from spending a whole semester in a course and not getting credit for it.

Be sure to request that an official program transcript be sent to the GEO and another directly to you at the end of your study abroad experience. You should also be sure that all of the courses that will appear on this transcript are in the Course Approval Database or that Course Approval Forms have been submitted and approved, or you risk not getting all of the credit you deserve. It is your responsibility to follow up on this.

STEP 6: REGISTER FOR COURSES (optional)
If you have been accepted into a study abroad program before registration for the next semester at Duke occurs, you may skip this step. If it is time to register for the next semester and you have not yet heard from your program of choice, please register for courses on campus. Once you do receive an acceptance it is easy to drop these courses. The same is true for meal plans. It is easier to undo these things than to try and pick them up later.

STEP 7: OBTAIN/UPDATE TRAVEL DOCUMENTS AND IMMUNIZATIONS
If you do not yet have a passport, apply for one immediately. Here is a link - http://travel.state.gov/content/passports/english.html. If you do have one, check to make sure that it is valid for at least 6 months after your programs ends. If you need a student visa for your destination country, start the process early and follow the directions carefully. Careful passport/visa planning should be made by those traveling to multiple destinations. If you will be participating in a program which requires immunizations, especially in undeveloped countries, please make an appointment early at the Travel Clinic (681-WELL) located in the Student Health Center (http://studentaffairs.duke.edu/studenthealth). They may not be able to accommodate you toward the end of the semester. Once you have your passport, student visa (if required), immunizations, and other travel essentials such as air tickets and insurance, then you are ready to depart. Be sure to make copies of all of your important documents to take with you and to leave at home. Don’t forget to register with the required Duke University International Travel Registry at https://travel.duke.edu/.

STEP 8: READ THE DUKE ABROAD HANDBOOK
Be sure to read this online before you go. This handbook has important information about policies and procedures you will need to know to successfully complete your study abroad program. Your parents/guardians will also receive an online copy. The latest version is available on-line at http://globaled.duke.edu/for_students/Forms_Publications.

STEP 9: COMPLETE THE PROGRAM AND COURSE EVALUATIONS
At the end of your program, complete the online GEO program evaluations. More information can be found at http://globaled.duke.edu/for_students/Returning_from_Abroad/Program_Evaluation. You will receive on e-mail with a personalized link to complete the evaluation. Failure to complete the evaluation will result in a Registration Block in further semesters.

STEP 10: INTEGRATE YOUR EXPERIENCE INTO LIFE BACK AT DUKE
Become an advocate for study abroad! Join the GEO Student Committee, attend the Unpacking Your Global Ed Experience event, take classes relevant to your host country, apply to be a student worker in GEO, apply for a Dean’s summer fellowship to do follow up research on a topic that intrigued you while abroad, write articles, and submit a postcard at http://globaled.duke.edu/for_students/Returning_from_Abroad/Get_Involved. Don’t forget to mention your experience on your résumé and in job interviews.

If you have any other questions, feel free to contact us. Good luck!
